As we step into this final week before Spring Break at Foundations School, we are continually reminded that God is at work in and through our students, staff, and families. Each day brings new opportunities for growth, learning, and deepening our faith.

Scripture encourages us in this season of expectation: "For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future." Jeremiah 29:11. We hold tightly to this promise, knowing that the work being done today is laying a strong foundation for what is to come.

We are already seeing the fruits of perseverance, character, and hard work in our students. As Galatians 6:9 reminds us, "Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up." There is great excitement for what God will continue to do in the weeks and months ahead.

As we look forward with expectation, we also encourage everyone to finish this week strong. Let's remain focused, engaged, and committed as we head into a well-deserved Spring Break. We are grateful for each of you and the role you play in making Foundations School a place of purpose and promise. The best is yet to come!

A little bit about Emily

- My favorite subject by far is biology where the legendary Mr. Tim teaches us about all natural things.
- My favorite color is purple by the way.
- I also really love orcas and all of their ecotypes as well as the famous hypercarnivore called an alligator.
- In my free time I enjoy working out, skateboarding, practicing my guitar, snowboarding, skiing, reading, going out with my friends, and any other random activities you can think of.
- I like to think of myself as a “jack of all trades but a master of none” which sounded better in my head so don't laugh. Its better than being a master of one after all.

Today specifically I spent the hours being principal for the day. Mrs. Montgomery is the real principal and way scarier than me but I think I did alright. She showed me what she does and how a day looks at her job. She answered many phone calls and let me handle the walkie talkie communication between the other teachers. I got to write some announcement papers and edit the chore list! The kindergarten made rock soup for everyone's lunch which was especially enjoyed by Dustin. Overall I found the experience to be entertaining and a great learning experience.
